Welcome to our Products and Services Directory which has been designed to provide our existing and prospective customer base, as well as specifiers, with a ready source of reference to the comprehensive range of construction materials and services available from Northstone (NI) Limited.

Our business recognises the primary importance of customers and we will endeavour to consistently satisfy your present and future requirements, by ensuring every aspect of product quality, specification, availability and supply arrangements is to the highest possible standard.

The Right Sand

We are committed to seeking and delivering continuous improvements in product innovation and customer care in every market in which we operate.

The Northstone Concrete Division brings together the former Scott and Ready Use companies, which over many years have become major suppliers of superior construction materials and services. The Division's portfolio includes roof tiles and fixing services, spigot and socket pipes, ready mixed concrete, concrete blocks and bricks, mortar and screeds, as well as a full range of sand and gravel products. The Division focuses on responsiveness to customer needs, strict adherence to quality manufacturing techniques, ongoing product innovation and continuous improvement in capability to deliver product to customers as and when they need it.

The Right Tile

The Right Mix

The Northstone Quarry and Asphalt Division story began in 1920 when the late Robert Maxwell laid the first coated macadam in Northern Ireland. Over the next eight decades Maxwell became the Province's leading quarry operator and blacktop producer. The Maxwell brand brings many attributes to the Northstone organisation including widespread aggregate resources and best practice production capability providing customers and clients with confidence and reassurance. Maxwell production facilities are complemented with a dynamic contracts team which undertakes both public and private sector road construction and maintenance contracts.
